Editorial

The beginning of the New Year, 2013, started on a note of sorrow. The sad demise of Papor Kalita, former HoD, Botany, who left for her heavenly abode on 5 January, 2013, cast a pall of gloom within the college fraternity. However, while she lost her battle for life, her indomitable spirit led the college on, in its endeavour, to meet the challenges of higher education. The year is marked by a flurry of activities. The active participation of teachers and students in various fields of academics, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, and infrastructural developments is worthy of praise and appreciation. The stakeholders of the college march ahead selflessly, with enthusiasm and gusto, to bring laurels to the college in all its aspects. The failures and losses along the way did not deter the spirits of the members of this institution of higher education in achieving the goal of excellence. While the Editorial Board has made an attempt to faithfully portray the journey of the college during the year 2013, yet there is bound to be errors in the publication of this issue of the newsletter. As such, we ardently hope that any inadvertent errors in the process may kindly be marked so that the same maybe avoided in future publications. The Board also welcomes positive and constructive criticism from its readers to improve upon itself.
